Exhibition of Port of Gävle

This year we have put a lot of focus on strengthening Port of Gävle as a brand and increase the awareness of Gävle as a historical maritime city. We want people living in the region to understand the importance of Port of Gävle. This information has mainly been carried out on fairs we visited, meetings, articles written and content on our social media. Next year we will launch an exhibition focusing on sustainability, jobs created and how Port of Gävle has an impact on your everyday life. The exhibition will be shown on different, central locations around Gävle from next week until the summer of 2019. If you see it take a photo and send it to natalie.gerami_wallner@gavlehamn.se – you might win a trip with Captain Ronny Gustafsson on our tug boat!

Seminar together with Chamber of Commerce

The seminar that we hosted together with Chamber of commerce in May was very successful and next year we are planning for a new joint seminar. Book 28th of May in your calendars. Issues like the transfer of goods from road to sea will be discussed, and whether short-sea traffic can be a good alternative. Also international trade agreements and Brexit is on the agenda.

New land

Port of Gävle is now taking the first step in developing the logistics park that is located directly adjacent to the port. 3.7 hectare of land has been acquired and will initially be used for storage of parts for wind turbines.

During 2018 parts of about 80 wind turbines were stored in Port of Gävle. Next year this number is expected to double.

"We are proud to be a hub for the wind power industry and that we in that way can contribute to clean electricity. For every new wind turbine that is being built, new clean electricity is pumped into the system and replaces electricity from coal and gas power plants," says Fredrik Svanbom, CEO of Port of Gävle.

With this, we would like to wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
